

The Manhasset Parent Association for Special Education (PASE) is an organization founded in 1990 to address the needs of special education students in Manhasset. Our mission is to be a driving force in the development and enhancement of special education programs, to act as a resource to enable parents to meet and exchange information about current school based programs as well as therapies and practices, to identify problems and promote solutions, and to raise funds to support programs and technology that benefit special education students.

PASE strives to provide families with information about their child's disability, including interventions and programs available to their children within the school as well as extracurricular programs. PASE meetings provide a forum for parents to raise questions and concerns they may have regarding their children's needs. Every year, PASE hosts speakers on a variety of topics and sponsors programs for Manhasset students.

PASE strives to build community support among parents, administrators and teachers in order to develop a better understanding and awareness of the needs of special education students.
